COXEY'S TRIBULATIONS

What the Commonweal Leader May Expect in Washington.

LIABLE TO HEAVY PENALTIES.

It Is Unlawful to Lead a Mob of Destitute People Into the National Capital. One Mob of Forty Already Under Arrest.

WASHINGTON, April 9 — The advance guard of Coxey's army reached here Saturday night. There were forty of them in all, and they came to town in some empty box cars over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad from Cincinnati. The railroad authorities had warned superintendent of Police Moore, and when the train stopped in the Baltimore and Ohio freight yard in Eckington the visitors found forty policemen drawn up along the track to receive them. The whole mob were at once arrested on a charge of vagrancy.

The uncermonious manner in which the mob of unemployed was taken in charge by the police is a foretaste of the reception which awaits Coxey's army. Although the police department was taken somewhat by surprise by the unexpected coming of the party, there was no delay or difficulty in massing all the reserves at the suburban station to meet them.

The local law against vagrants is a sweeping measure. It applies to all men without visible means of support who are destitute, likely to become charges upon the city, who have no vocation or means of gaining a livelihood, or who solicit alms. The penalty for those who are arraigned under the provisions of the act is ninety days in the workhouse at hard labor, but it rests within the discretion of the judge to accept their promises to leave the city at once, or to accept $200 bonds as surety that they will not beg or become public charges.

There is no doubt of the application of this law to the band from Texas under Captain Primrose, for the search in the police station of the men showed that the total cash capital of the company amounts to about $2.

Of course the men cannot give bonds for their good behavior if permitted to remain in the city, but it is not improbable that the court will accept their promises to leave and have officers detailed to see that they keep their word, since it is evident that they are neither criminals nor confirmed tramps, and the expense of keeping them in the workhouse would be a large item. In the meantime they have received fairly good meals, and have been passably comfortable except for the ignominy of confinement in dirty cells usually occupied by criminals.

Captain Primrose the leader of the band, may find himself in more serious trouble than his followers. There is an old law on the statute books which was passed in 1850 and has never been repealed, which makes it an offense to bring into the District of Columbia any destitute people who are likely to become public charges, with a penalty of from $25 to $50 fine for each offence. The police authorities are considering the advisability of bringing a charge of violating this law against the leader, in which case his fines, with the alternative workhouse imprisonment, would amount to a very heavy punishment.

The same charge may be brought against General Coxey if disaster does not overtake the army of the Commonweal before it completes its itinerary. Of course the vagrancy act may be brought into application against his followers and beside, there are two other laws which it is the avowed and advertised purpose of the Coxeyites to break. One is the act of congress regulating the use of the Capitol grounds, which forbids in stringent terms any gathering, demonstration or parade, the making of any oration, or use of threatening language, the display of any banner or device to attract attention.

The other is a local law which forbids men to congregate on the steps of any public or private building. It rests within the discretion of the vice president and speaker of the house to suspend the Capitol regulations for any proper purpose, and perhaps Coxey's agents will apply to them for permission to carry out their program.

Major Moore, chief of police, said in speaking of the march of Coxey. "These laws are on the statute books, and we have no discretion but to enforce them if Coxey's army does arrive, unless congress should give them permission to congregate on the Capitol steps.'

The details of the police movement against Coxey are kept a secret. No doubt he will be met at the district limits. If the numbers of his army are too great for the police to cope with the local militia will be called to their aid. What to do with the army when it arrives and is taken into custody, if it should be, is a difficult question, because the jails and station houses of Washington will not accommodate such a crowd. To simply repulse the men and forbid them to enter the district would be to turn them loose on the suburban residents of Virginia and Maryland, and this is an aspect of the matter which gives rise to much uneasiness here.

Major Moore has received a letter from the chief of police of Allegheny City, Pa., describing the men in most uncomplimentary terms. He declares that there are several professional criminals in their ranks, that four or five burglaries were committed by them while they were in his town, and that there would have been more depredations but for the close police surveillance over the army during its stay.

Colonel Redstone, the Washington representative of the army, said concerning the men arrested Saturday night: "This body of men is not at all connected with the Commonweal army, as no Coxey men will come on until word is previously sent to our headquarters, and none will come in disorder or without military discipline. There will be no resistance of the law and none of the men will enter the city as a body until the main line arrives."

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

House Democrats Alarmed at the Tariff Bill's Slow Progress.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—If the plans of the Democratic leaders of the senate do not miscarry the senate will devote itself almost exclusively this week to the consideration of the tariff bill. Their plan is to have the bill taken up each day immediately after the conclusion of routine morning business. They may not succeed in getting such an order as this, but the announcement of their purpose of making an effort in that direction is an indication of their intention of crowding the debate along as rapidly as it possibly can be done. The Democratic members of the finance committee will very probably undertake to extend the daily sessions until 6 o'clock, which will most likely be resisted by the Republicans. Other questions which may receive attention during the week are the Chinese treaty, the Hawaiian treaty bill and the resolution providing for the coinage of Mexican dollars in this country.

Appropriation bills will have the right of way in the house during the week. It is the intention of the house managers to push ahead with these bills and get them out of the way as soon as possible. Some of the prominent house Democrats are alarmed at the slow progress made in the senate with the tariff bill and the seeming indifference those in charge of it are manifesting. They think by clearing up the work of the house the country will see that any responsibility for the delay of the tariff which may exist will be laid at the door of the senate.

INSURGENTS UNSUPPRESSED

A Decisive Engagement with Brazilian Troops Expected Shortly.

LONDON, April 9.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Buenos Ayres stating that an insurgent torpedo boat and four transports forced the bar at Rio Grande do Sul on Saturday and landed 4,000 troops. The dispatch adds that the report of the capture of Rio Grande do Sul by the insurgents was erroneous. The government still holds the city. Another insurgent column is reported to be marching southward for the purpose of attacking Porto Alegre. It is said that a decisive engagement is expected shortly. The English gunboats Racer and Beagle left Montevideo today for Rio Grande do Sul.

BUENOS AYRES, April 9.—Notwithstanding the order of the Brazilian government forbidding the transmission of dispatches from Rio Grande do Sul, advices have reached here to the effect that the government gunboat Canaras has surrendered to the insurgent fleet at Rio Grande do Sul. It is added that the land forces of the insurgents number 6,000 men, all of whom are well armed. The insurgents are plentifully supplied with provisions. The Portuguese warships Mindello and Affonso de Albuquerque, having on board Admiral de Gama and a number of other insurgents, have sailed hence. Their destination is not known.

Coxey's Army of Three Hundred.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 9.—This town, where the distinguished and lamented Blaine spent the greater portion of his boyhood days, welcomed the Army of the Commonweal of Christ fairly well last night. Great curiosity has been for weeks aroused over the proposed arrival, and the usual Sabbath quiet was disturbed early in the afternoon by the congregation of people upon the streets. It was not until 7 o'clock that the bugle was heard sounding down the valley, and just as the twilight was deepening into night the Commonweal marched over the Bridgeport bridge and entered in this city. Ten thousand weary watchers viewed the tramp of 994. The army is camped for the night in Bracebridge hall, in the center of town, and the marchers retired early. The feeling in Monongahela City is generally favorable to the Coxey movement, but no recruits were received.

Pastor Greigg's Sensational Sermon.

BALTIMORE, April 9.—A sensation was occasioned last evening in the congregation of the Twelfth Presbyterian church by the startling utterances of Rev. D. B. Greigg, pastor, who preached on the Breckinridge-Pollard breach of promise suit. The reverend gentleman warned his hearers to beware of passing judgment upon their fellows, and reminded them of the Savior's declaration, 'Let him who is without sin among you cast the first stone.'" In speaking of the cause celebre he said society and the world should be charitable and forgive both parties. He had no doubt there were many equally as culpable and perhaps could be found among those before him.

TERRIBLE POWDER EXPLOSION

Twelve Killed by the Destruction of a Fireworks Factory.

PETERSBURG, Va., April 9.—Twelve persons were killed and several badly injured by an explosion which occurred in the powder house of the fireworks factory of C. N. Romaine & Bro., on Blankford. The explosion was distinctly heard in the city, where windows of stores and dwellings were rattled by it. The building was set on fire by the explosion and the flames spread to adjoining buildings in which powder and fireworks were stored. As each house took fire explosion followed and the same shot and shell from the different large trunk factory of Romaine & Bro., which was thrown to the ground. Parts also of the old powder factory. John F. Hart's tailor, Quincey Lipscomb, employe in fireworks factory, William Parsons, employe in fireworks factory, James W. Perkins, brick layer, Charles N. Romaine, member of the city council, James Rose and inmate of Prince George county, Robert Rowland, carpenter, James T. Tosh, candidate for revenue commissioner, Edward Traylor, employe in fireworks factory, Thomas Woodroffe, colored, fireman in the factory.

A colored boy named Samuel Drew was sitting on the front door of his parents' home, near the factory, and was struck by a flying brick or piece of timber and terribly injured, but may recover.

The shock from the explosions was felt for a distance of fully a mile, and in the neighborhood of where they occurred ceilings fell and windows were shattered.

Elevated to the Bishopric.

BALTIMORE, April 9.—The venerable cathedral of Baltimore, out from which have gone so many subsequently distinguished prelates of the Catholic church, was brilliant with lights and redolent with the perfume of incense and flowers yesterday upon the occasion of the elevation to the episcopacy of Rev. Patrick J. Donahue, recently nominated to the see of Wheeling, W. Va. The ceremonies were of that imposing grandeur characteristic of the ritual of the Roman Catholic church. In the evening Bishop Donahue celebrated pontifical vespers. On next Sunday he will administer for the first time the rite of confirmation, and on the following Sunday will be installed in St. Joseph's cathedral, Wheeling.

Governor West Indignant.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 9.—Governor West and a portion of the Utah militia went to Ogden and interviewed the city officials of the Union and Southern Pacific roads regarding the army of unemployed on the cars of that company, which army was then encamped several miles west of the Utah line. The Union Pacific officials refused to move the army east unless their fares were paid, and the governor then declared that they must be returned to Sacramento. At 4 o'clock the Southern Pacific ordered the train brought into Ogden in defiance of the governor's protest. Governor West expressed himself in strong terms to Knapp, the leader of the army, and characterized the whole matter as a conspiracy between the Southern Pacific and the state of California.

Killed by Falling Walls.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—The brick three story building 154 and 156 Beal street collapsed yesterday. Four persons were killed and five wounded, and there are believed to be two others in the ruins. All the killed injured and missing are negroes of the lowest class. The first floor was occupied as a storehouse, and the upper floors were cut up into lodging rooms for negro men and women. The killed are: Amy Simmons, aged 18, a deaf negro; John Morgan, aged 30, negro barber; Will Cook, aged 25, negro barber; Lottie Marks, age unknown; Laura Harris and Charles Harris are missing and the bodies of both are believed to be under the debris. Cora Murphy was fatally injured.

Oklahoma's Municipal War Renewed.

ENID, O. T., April 9.—A renewal of the recent municipal war is imminent. The old council, that was voted out at the last election, refused to retire, and sitting as an election board in the recent election threw out several of the disputed and mutilated ballots. This, it is asserted, changed the verdict of the people. Federal Judge Buford issued a mandamus compelling the council and mayor to canvass the ballots as returned to them, but the old council declare he has no jurisdiction, and refuse to comply with the writ. If they do not the whole city board will be sent to jail for contempt. Feeling is running high and threats are made.

TILLMAN'S DEMOCRACY

He Declares Himself an Original Jefferson Democrat.

CLEVELAND BITTERLY DENOUNCED

The President Says South Carolina's Governor Has Destroyed the Democratic Party and Has Been Working Under the Dictation of New York Bankers.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 9.—While the eyes of all the citizens of United States are turned upon the senate in consequence of the recent labor insurrection in Washington Governor Tillman comes to the front with the most dramatic sensation in national politics. While the Associated Press correspondent was at the executive mansion he got a letter he had received from a western Populist in which he read and said that the one thing he did not admire about the governor's political course was that he did not have the moral courage to come squarely out and call himself a Populist. The governor then called attention to the fact that many of the northern and western papers were speaking of him as the Populist governor. Then after a little deliberation he said:

"Yes they call me a Populist. I will tell them that I am the truest representative of Jeffersonian Democracy in American politics today. Let me tell you, I don't see anything ahead now but for the southern Democrats to combine their forces with the western Populists and go into the next national campaign on new party lines. The northeastern Democrats and Republicans are now together. It is a communion of the moneyed interests."

The governor turned suddenly and in a somewhat excited and very forcible manner said:

"I despise Cleveland and his mugwumps. He is no better than the rankest Republican. He has destroyed the Democratic party. The south and west will be forced to unite and have a complete reorganization of party lines. The people who are afraid of the negro and other questions will have to cast aside their fears on these scores and come together on the line of fighting the money combination.

"Cleveland has been working under the dictation of the New York bankers, and bargaining with them in the matter of the issue of bonds. He promised the banks if they would take them there would be no more legislation on the silver question by this congress. Congress passed the seigniorage act, and he vetoed the bill, indicating plainly the nature of his bargain with the bankers. The whole thing is such a scheme of robbery that he ought to be impeached for it. It is a shame and a disgrace. The idea of this great government having to beg a lot of Shylocks for assistance is so outrageous that there is not a language too strong in which to characterize it.

"Cleveland is owned body and soul by these scoundrels he secured his nomination at Chicago through the agency of a subsidized press, and the votes he lacked there after exhausting such means he bought with promises of patronage, which promises have since been redeemed, the goods have been delivered. His attempt to browbeat and debauch the senators was outrageous in the extreme. If those cowardly congressmen up there had any appreciation of their duty to their constituency at home they would impeach him.

"Consider the farce and treason to the interests of the masses in issuing bonds under a pretense of increasing the gold reserve, when the same gold is paid in at one window and drawn out at another with silver certificates. And the same process can go on till the silver certificates are exhausted and the people have to pay the interest."

"Well, governor, what is your idea of what ought to be done?" was asked.

"Well, I'll tell you. I think that the silver men of this country ought to meet in convention at Memphis or St. Louis, and organize a fight to control the next congress. Let the west and the south cast aside all questions upon which they now have any differences and get together. It is a fight between gold and silver or poverty and prosperity. One word more, as to Mr. Cleveland. I think that it is most damnable and outrageous, his being dictated to and bought up by those bondholders. It is debasing his high office. He is abusing his power to dicker with such people and barter away the people's blood, even upon the pretext of financial relief.

"The newspapers which are snarling and snapping at my heels as being a Populist are the paid hirelings of his bosses. I am a Populist in the sense that I am for the people's rights but there are many planks in the Populist platform which I do not indorse. If the silver congressmen will issue a call for a silver convention and carry the war into Africa we will teach those blood sucking gold thieves a lesson in politics such as they have not had since Jackson's campaign against the banks."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklin's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Sdeaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, and the doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklin's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at McMonagle & Rogers Drug store.

FROM CHINA AND JAPAN

Eighteen Men Burned to Death in a Japanese Mine.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The steamship Belgic brings Japanese news up to March 24 as follows: The Emperor of Germany has intimated his intention of presenting the emperor and empress of Japan with a pair of pony carriages as a memento of the imperial silver wedding.

The action of China in sending troops into Corea to punish brigands is causing much unfavorable feeling in Japan, and is said to be a violation of the treaty of Tientsin.

From Siam comes an extraordinary case of credulity. Nine Siamese Buddhist priests have been making great profit by tattooing people to make them invulnerable. One of the priests has a number of friends to witness the potency of his charm and placing a gun in his mouth, pulled the trigger when all too late. The priest has been forced out of the business.

The Chinese colony at Kuntegun, caught fire while 765 men were in them. Eighteen were burned to death.

The Populists of Miyasakoken recently divided into two parties and engaged in battle with swords and rifles. The combatants numbered 4,000, and many of them were wounded.

The recent alleged attempt by which the king of Corea and all his ministers were to have been blown up by powder turns out to have been a party affair. It originated in the revengeful talk of a single Corean who had been stripped of his money of a confidence man and suffered himself to indulge in revolutionary threats against the reigning dynasty. The young fellow had been an office seeker, but failing to secure an appointment had offered large bribes to influential men.

Incendiarism to Hide Murder.

SHARON, Pa., April 9.—Henry Winnell, aged 45 years, was discovered in an almost unconscious condition, the result of a terrible experience with masked burglars. The robbers, after knocking Winnell senseless, ransacked the house and then saturated the victim's clothing with oil and set fire to him. Winnell cannot possibly recover. His legs and arms are a charred mass of flesh, one leg being so badly burned that amputation will be necessary. Nellie Morris, Winnell's housekeeper, Nellie Hudspeth and Charles Aschman have been arrested on a warrant charging them with incendiarism and attempted murder.

A Monster Lockout Threatened.

CHICAGO, April 9.—There is a strong probability that the employers of labor in the various building trades will declare a lockout next Wednesday and throw from 60,000 to 100,000 men out of employment. At a meeting of the executive committee of the Building League, which is made up of contractors in all branches of the building trades, that it was the unanimous sentiment that a lockout had become a necessity for the reorganization of the building trade along lines which would enable the contractor to control his own business.

Is Caron a Fugitive?

LONDON, April 9.—A curious rumor is current that Major Le Caron, the British government spy, who was announced to have died recently in this city, is not dead, but is now on the way to one of the most distant colonies to escape a Fenian plot to kill him. No details of the plot are given, but it is thought that several members of the Fenian brotherhood from New York and elsewhere were detailed to remove Major Le Caron and that the latter had a very narrow escape.

Entombed in a Maryland Mine.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 9.—Saturday afternoon nine men were removing a pillar in Bowery coal mine near Frostburg, when a cave in occurred. John Kears, one of the men, was entombed behind a mass of over 100 tons of coal. He may be killed and he may be alive. A gang of men immediately went to work to cut their way to Kears, but it will take two days to reach him.

Settled Their Differences.

MILLVILLE, N. J., April 9.—A conference was held here between Mr. Thomas, representing Whitall, Tatum & Co., President Smith, of the American Flint Glass Workers' union, and the Bohemian glass workers, which terminated in a satisfactory agreement as to existing differences. Nearly the entire blast will begin in a few days, and the work will last well into the summer.

The Meeting of the Rulers.

VENICE, April 9.—This city is still en fete because of the presence here of King Humbert and the German emperor. Yesterday their majesties lunched at the palace, and in the afternoon they visited the Palazzo Ducale church. King Humbert has decided to visit Queen Victoria at Florence on Tuesday. He will be accompanied by Queen Margherita and the crown prince.

UPRISING PREVENTED.

How It Was Suppressed by Cuba's Governor General.

ARMS SHIPPED FROM NEW YORK.

The Guns and Ammunition Passed Through the Custom House by the Collusion of Government Employes, but They Were Watched by the Authorities.

MADRID, April 10.—The governor general of Cuba has written to Senor Becerra, minister of the colonies, details of the frustration by the government of Cuba of a revolutionary conspiracy. The leader of the movement was General Maximo Gomez. According to the dispatch received by the minister of the colonies General Gomez had collected 2,000 rifles which were intended for the use of insurgents in Cuba. General Gomez was directing the movements of the conspirators from San Domingo and without his being aware of it he was closely watched by the Spanish consul there.

On April 4 General Gomez sailed for New York and all the known facts were communicated to the governor general of Cuba. The military authorities were advised of the plot, and a close watch was kept to prevent the landing of arms or ammunition. It was learned that a quantity of arms and other contraband of war had been shipped from New York in the steamer Alert by General Marti, the well known insurgent leader. By familiar methods these arms were passed through the custom house at Nuevitas, and were being taken into the interior. The military followed the train bearing the smuggled articles and came up with it at Puerto Principe thirty-six miles southwest of Nuevitas. A raid made on the train, and 200 Remington rifles and 40,000 cartridges were seized.

The customs employes who are suspected of having been bribed to permit the landing of the contraband munitions of war have been suspended, and a strict investigation will be made of the matter. The minister of the colonies has sent a dispatch to the governor general praising him for his action, and ordering that he deal in the strictest manner with the customs and railway officials implicated in the matter.

LONDON, April 9.—A dispatch from Madrid to The Standard says the Spanish ambassador at Washington has been instructed to ask the United States government to watch the Cuban refugees in that country.

Murdered by Fellow Students.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 9.—News has reached here of a terrible tragedy enacted at the Baptist Mission college, at Wewewaka, the capital city of the Seminole Indian nation. There are a number of Indian boys and some white boys in the institution, ranging in age from 10 to 20. For some time there has been a bitter feeling against an Indian boy named Frank Short, which was intensified during the past week by Short reporting certain misdeeds of several of the other boys. After all had retired in the dormitory on the third floor three boys stole to Short's cot, picked him up, carried him to the window and hurled him to the ground. The fall injured him so badly that he has since died. The three guilty boys escaped.

Menage May be Extradited.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 9.—Governor Nelson received a telegram from the department of state in Washington, informing him that word had been received by the department from an American consul in Guatemala that L. F. Menage, the Guaranty Loan defaulter, had sailed from a Guatemalan port for Belize, in British Honduras. Governor Nelson immediately telegraphed back instructions for the American consul in Belize to arrest Menage upon the arrival of the steamer there. Belize is in British territory, and Menage can be extradited from there.

Governor Brown's Big Majority.

PROVIDENCE, April 9.—The returns of the election, as corrected, give the total vote as 54,655. The vote last year was 54,679. The vote for governor gives Brown (Rep.), 28,840, Baker (Dem.), 22,809, Metcalf (Pro.) 2,185. Brown's plurality is 6,308, and his majority 3,803, which is larger than any governor has received for many years. The corrected returns show that there will be three Democrats in the house of representatives and two Democrats and one Independent Democrat in the senate.

An Express Thief's Capture.

JACKSON, Miss., April 9.—Charles O. Summers, the detective sentenced to the penitentiary for five years for stealing $5,000 from the Southern Express company at Meridian, Miss., in 1883, escaped yesterday with a guard named Funches. Summers is the man William Pinkerton captured in San Francisco last December, and this is the second time he has escaped. Governor Stone has offered $500 reward for Summers and $100 for Funches' capture.

ATTEMPTED KIDNAPING.

Gypsy Women Almost Succeed in Stealing a Little New York Boy.

A bold attempt was made to kidnap the little son of Edward C. Deane, a wealthy boat and shoe dealer of Matteawan, N. Y. The Deane family live in a handsome residence on Cliff street in that village.

For several days a band of gypsies have been encamped a few miles from Matteawan. It was the custom of the women of the party to roam around the village every day. On Tuesday afternoon little Harold Deane was allowed by his colored nurse to go out in the front yard and play.

The child had been there only a short time when two gypsy women came along who were ostensibly selling fancy colored baskets. They boldly entered the yard of the Deane residence, and one of them asked little Harold if he wanted a pretty basket. The child replied that he did, when one of the women handed the boy a little basket, which he gleefully accepted. Then the women each took hold of one of the child's hands and led him gently out into and up Cliff street. The boy went quietly and willingly. The nurse missed him soon afterward and went out in the street to look for Harold, but he was nowhere to be seen. She scrambled and then ran two or three blocks, when she was finally told that a little boy had been seen walking along with two wild looking women. She continued on and eventually came across the trio on the outskirts of the village, over half a mile from the child's home.

The gypsy women were still leading the child by the hands. The nurse grabbed the little boy and attempted to wrest him from his captors. The gypsies held on firmly to the child, however, not being at all disposed to let him go. But the nurse screamed and fought them, and when the other women saw that people were coming to her rescue they let go of the child and ran away.

While the nurse was taking him home little Harold said that the gypsy women had promised to take him on the cars ever so far away. When officers from Matteawan visited the gypsy camp a few hours later in an effort to arrest the would be kidnapers, they found it deserted, as the members of the band had all hurriedly pulled upstakes and driven off. The incident created considerable excitement in the village.—New York Herald.

Story of a Strange Coincidence Which Leads Editor Allen to Answer to Prayer.

We have in our possession a photograph of one of the strangest and most remarkable accidents that ever came to our knowledge. It has on the desk as we write and was handed to us by M. R. Allen, a photographer by occupation, who told us the interesting little story connected with it. The photo represents a saucer, in the center of which is a distinct likeness of a human face. It is the bust of a man, with curly hair and dark beard and several to whom it has been exhibited at once recognized a resemblance between the engravings usually seen of Christ.

It seems that some time since a Mrs. Timmerman of Piedmont, S. C., where young Mr. Allen had been in the photograph business, suffered the loss of a favorite daughter. The bereavement left the mother broken hearted. She is a Christian woman, and she prayed that God would give her some token by which she might be comforted. One day, while cleaning the dinner table, in gathering up the dishes preparatory to cleaning them the settings of a cup of coffee ran into a saucer which had not been used. In taking up the saucer to wipe away the settings she saw, to her intense astonishment, that the coffee grounds had a perfect profile of a human bust, and, what was yet more wonderful, that head and face formed the ideal likeness of Jesus Christ. She recognized it as such instantly and accepted the strange coincidence as an answer to her prayer. The grounds dried on the saucer and yet retained the shape they first assumed. The doll has been photographed by our informant, and any one so desiring may see it at our office. Mr. Allen assures us that no human hand has touched the remarkable production, and that Mrs. Timmerman is a reliable and truthful lady. To say the least of the occurrence, it is a very remarkable circumstance.—Gainesville (Ga.) Eagle.

Spurgeon, Jr., Succeeds Spurgeon, Sr.

The election of Thomas Spurgeon by a triumphant majority to the pastorate of the famous Metropolitan tabernacle in succession to his father was due to careful organization and persistent canvassing. It was feared that the partisans of Dr Pierson would endeavor to prevent a decisive vote being taken, but at the last moment they wisely yielded to the inevitable, and the election was carried out without hitching. The widow of the late pastor, assisted by the Rev. J. Hyerald, her private secretary, and who acted in the same capacity for her husband, directed the campaign in behalf of Thomas Spurgeon, who by the way, was from the first the favorite of the lady members of the congregation.—London Letter.

Teachers Against Useless Rules.

At the last meeting of the school committee it was solemnly voted "that permission is given to Mrs. Annie Tuttle to employ women to wash the floors of the Bowdoin schoolhouse and the windows of the Charlestown Court schoolhouse."

This vote was necessary, because it is contrary to the school committee's rules to wash the floors and windows of a Boston schoolhouse more than once a year. This sounds strange, but it is true.—Boston Herald.

Frederick Weyland, who is spending his honeymoon at Jamestown, N. J., is at pains to secure a public denial to reports that another bridegroom was among his presents to the bride. He needs nothing of that kind to enable him to keep in the swim.

The Best Thing in Milk Pails

is Pearline. That's the solid truth. You get them cleaner, and with less work and fuss, than with anything else you can use. It saves you so much that it's cheaper than the commonest stuff can be. Proof—the largest dairies and dealers use Pearline.

Some women are afraid of Pearline. They think that where cleaning is made so easy, there must be some harm to the thing washed. But Pearline can't hurt milk pails, anyway. And it can't hurt the finest lace or the softest hands, any more than it hurts milk pails.

THE GIRLS DIDN'T KNOW, YOU KNOW.

Amusing Words From Boston Try Reformers After a Whirl on Broad.

Boston newspaper women are chaperoned,—and well chaperoned—forsooth, but all of them are not yet up to the ways and wiles of the metropolis. Several of the leading lights were in attendance at the auditorium breakfast of Lucia Monday, a number of them coming over several days earlier to see a few of the sights of the town. They were entertained with liberal hospitality—breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, receptions and theater parties, etc.

With characteristic Boston independence, however, a few of them decided to devote one evening to an outing on their own account. After much discussion it was finally decided to dine at Delmonico's.

Five of them started out from the Waldorf one evening with that object in view. They filed majestically through the Fifth avenue entrance of the famous restaurant, but were immediately confronted by a male being with an imposing expanse of shirt front, who calmly informed them that they could not be admitted.

The blood of the Puritans was at boiling point in a minute. What, they, the representatives of Boston's intellect, culture and intelligence, denied admittance to a New York restaurant! It was not to be borne. Were they not welcome at Parker's, at Young's, at the Vendome and at other shrines of Hub hospitality, and should they be denied entrance here?

An explanation was demanded. The guardian of the portal gave it kindly, but firmly. It was after the mystic hour when no woman could be admitted within Del's sacred precincts without an escort, and no exception could be made even for such distinguished guests. Meekly they withdrew, having acquired a new wrinkle in the way of New York's customs. Over what they said let the veil of secrecy be thrown. What they they thought may be left to the imagination.—New York Telegram.

GOLD FIND IN GEORGIA.

Rediscovery of the Mine Worked by De Soto and His Followers 300 Years Ago.

Mr. W. C. Padgett, a sawmill man operating a mill in the mountains northeast of this place has discovered some interesting relics in the way of stone mortars and other implements. Mr. Padgett secured the services of Professor Clark, an old mining engineer, to prospect the place. In one of the excavations they uncovered the top of an old pit, which they went down for a bit. It proved better than they had expected. They found gold sticking in the quartz in plenty, visible to the naked eye. Professor Clark said:

"It is a valuable find, beyond doubt. I believe it to be the exact spot where De Soto and his followers located and mined for gold and silver 300 years ago. There is every evidence to prove this. The remains of a large fort, the old excavations some of which have trees growing in them 300 years old, the cooking utensils and the other relics found from the solid stone. All this proves conclusively the site of an ancient mine. As to the mineral deposit, there are seven well defined veins that are legitimate in every sense, having a well defined igneous granite foot wall rock and overhanging slate top wall running northeast and southwest, dip east southeast."—Ellijay (Ga.) Dispatch.

Vaccinated Once Enough.

A lad of this town is now suffering from being vaccinated 47 times, and his case is regarded as about as serious as smallpox would be. His name is Werts, and his home is on Mulberry street. Recently the school board ordered all the school children vaccinated, and Werts' little sister was one of the victims. The virus in her arm caused an itching sensation, and on the sly she used her hairbrush to alleviate it. As the same time she accommodated her brother, loaning him her brush, which he used in lieu of a regular flesh brush to rub his back. The virus on the brush was effectually introduced in the lad's system, and his parents becoming frightened sent for a doctor. He came, shook his head doubtfully and sent for Health Officer Rudder and two other physicians. It looked like smallpox, but the little sister divulged her secret, and the whole matter was explained. There are on young Werts' back 47 separate places where the vaccination is getting in its work.—Williamsport (Pa.) Letter.

Anti-German Prejudice In France.

Paris furnishes two or three odd features of life. Besides the campaign between society and anarchy, the anti-German prejudice has taken a new form. The proprietor of the famous Bohemian restaurant known as the Dead Rat the other day married that four German artists dining there speak French instead of their native language, saying that his customers objected. The victims are said to have been subjected to the same annoyance in other restaurants. They refused to comply and left the place.—Paris Letter.

Stamped Silk Collar.

Postal authorities here were surprised the other day to discover in the mail matter a slightly soiled linen collar. At first it seemed that some absentminded person had mistaken a letter box for a soiled clothesbasket. But an address on one side of the linen, with a canceled postage stamp and a letter written on the other, proved that the linen had been put to use as the conveyer of intelligence. So the collar was back stamped and the missive delivered.—Worcester (Mass.) Letter.

A Famous Paris Resort.

There is still another of the former glories of Paris about to disappear—the Restaurant Vefour. It was put up for sale, but no bid having been made sufficiently high to pay the rent (30,000 francs) the sale had to be adjourned. It was founded in 1787 and cost its last proprietor upward of a million.—Paris Journal.

CARRIED OFF BY A WOLF.

A Baby Rescued After It Had Been Carried Two Miles by Its Captor.

Last Saturday a big wolf which has terrorized the people of the Brushy cave region in North Carolina, for the last two or three years entered the cabin of a mountaineer named Brown during the momentary absence of the housewife, and, finding the only occupant, an infant 6 months old, by the clothing in the region of the throat, lifted it from the rude cradle and bore it away into the mountains. When the mother returned to the house and missed the baby, she rushed to the door just in time to see the wolf and its precious burden disappear into the neighboring woods.

The distracted woman began to scream. This brought the husband, who was chopping wood not far away, to the scene in a high state of excitement. The story from the lips of the hysterical mother almost drove the brave fellow daft, but he seized his ax, called his dog and started in hot pursuit. There were about two inches of snow on the ground, and it providentially enabled the desperate father of the kidnapped infant to strike the trail of the wolf immediately after leaving his dooryard. Once upon the track of the beast, he rushed through the mountains with a speed born of distraction, expecting every moment to come upon the old assassin licking his chops red with the warm blood of his victim.

About two miles from his cabin the tracks of the wolf led the pursuer under a long shelf of rock protruding from the side of a mountain. There was no snow here, and the father lost the trail, but he now urged his dog, which up to this time he had compelled to remain with him. The dog took the lead, and the man followed, fully expecting to find the entrance to the wolf's den, from which he could hardly hope to get the baby alive. But his fears were groundless. He soon came upon his faithful dog wagging his tail and looking down at a little white bundle at his feet. It was the baby, sound asleep and most frozen, apparently unhurt otherwise.

Brown took off his coat, and wrapping the infant snugly in it started hastily for home. He soon met his wife and two or three of the neighbors to whom she had given the alarm. It was a most remarkable rescue. The mountaineers say that it was only a freak of the "mad" wolf, but the little one no doubt owes its life to a drenching of petroleum given it for some cutaneous affection by its mother just before it was carried away. The odor of the oil was too much for his wolfship. He probably sniffed about the child after laying it down under the rocks and preparing to make a delicious meal, then left in disgust.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat Special.

JAPANESE SUPERSTITION.

Saving the Drops of Water That Washed the Priest Who Died Recently.

The latest event in the religious world is the death, funeral and cremation of the chiefest priest of the largest and most powerful Buddhist sect in Japan. The funeral was attended by many tens of thousands of people from all over Japan. The person of this priest is so very sacred, and anything that has come in contact with it so very precious in its merit and powerful in its efficacy to save, that every drop of the water that was used in washing the body after death was eagerly sought for and gratefully received by the priests and laymen alike.

Little bamboo joints were used as vials in which to receive and carry away the precious fluid. This water will be used as drops of saving elixir when the body of some believer is washed for its burial—as a few drops of the attar of roses might be used in a bath—and the one receiving this washing will be insured a safe and happy entrance into the Buddhist paradise.

Sad, sad, unspeakably sad, and yet millions of these people believe this to be true.—Correspondence Independent.

Hard Lines for the Marquis.

That interesting member of the British aristocracy, the Marquis of Ailesbury, will be adjudged a bankrupt if within a month he does not pay $1,250,000 due to creditors above certain doubtful assets. The marquis has been gallantly endeavoring to prevent this consummation since 1890, when bankruptcy proceedings were first commenced against him, and the delay secured is a rare tribute to his cunning or that of his lawyers. His lordship's chief lament is that he is married, and therefore unable to wed an heiress. He has no doubt of his personal attractions or of the commercial value of his title. Yet these splendid assets are unrealizable because, years ago, when he was young and had plenty of money, he married Dolly Tester out of a music hall at Brighton.—London Cor. New York Sun.

Lively Bidding For an Heirloom.

The sum of $1,370 is rather a high price to pay for a turkey dish, yet this is the figure at which one was knocked down to a purchaser in Penn township at the sale of personal property of Levi Geiss. The dish is a rare old piece of chinaware, beautifully ornamented, and was purchased 20 years ago at a sale by Mr. Geiss for $2.50. Each of his children expressed a desire to have it, and as they could reach no agreement as to who should be the owner they decided to put it up at the sale of the other household effects. It was started at $10 and ran up rapidly at $20 a jump until it was awarded to the youngest son—Peter—at $1,370.—Reading (Pa.) Dispatch.

What They Thought of Childs.

A press clipping bureau has just completed a collection of 3,500 newspaper comments on the life and works of G. W. Childs. The two volumes in which they have been carefully and chronologically pasted are beautifully bound in black morocco. Among all the clippings there was only one that made an unkind remark regarding Mr. Childs.

UP THE MIDLAND.

Doing the Square Thing—The Roscoe Review—Where to Advertise for Boarders—The Fish Hatchery—Women Notaries—Injured in a Runaway—Lower Prices for Potatoes—The Acid Factories—Holstein Milk—Amended Game Law—Lumbering at Rockland—Trout Fishing Prospects.

—The young man Farbar, who did not know his gun was loaded and shot the Stadle and Ingraham girls has made all amends in his power for the wrong done and is paying for medical attendance.

—The Roscoe-Rockland Review has had an ephemeral existence under its projectors, Crum & Moore, and will hereafter be published by a stock company composed of the business men of the two villages, who will make a strong push for empire.

—Some of the New York papers are making a great effort to get people up here to advertise for summer boarders. The proper and only place where it pays to advertise for the summer boarder is in "Summer Homes," as the railroad company takes great pains to distribute these books where they are sure to result advantageously to those who advertise in them.

—The Delaware county women are coming to the front, as already five of their number are notaries public. They are Mrs. H. B. Sewell, Sidney Center; Miss Susie Glann and Miss Ella M. Marvin, Walton; Mrs. Parmelia B. Gould, Hancock, and Miss Helen A. Keeler, Kortright.

—As T. K. Walker and wife, formerly of Middletown, now of Downsville, were passing the cemetery, on Monday, the horse which they were driving turned out to get by a pile of logs on the lower side of the road, and in so doing the wagon was upset and the occupants thrown out. Besides being severely bruised, Mr. Walker had an ankle badly sprained and two fingers dislocated. He is at present confined to his bed. Mrs. Walker luckily escaped injury.

—The bottom fell out of the potato market the past week, the price having fallen at least ten cents a bushel all along the line. Fifty cents now seems to be about the average price.

—All the acid factories are in full blast with fair prospects ahead of them. The fact that their output was shortened during the winter makes it all the better for them now. There is no longer such profit in this business as there was twelve years ago. Too many in the business is the cause.

—The creamerymen ought not to taboo the milk from Holstein cows provided it shows the proper per cent. of butter fats. The great trouble is with these men that they get milk from Jerseys or natives up this way that shows eighteen to twenty-two per cent. cream at this time of the year. I would hardly like to say the consumer in the city got any more butter fats in his milk than he paid for.

—One Sullivan county milk producer is so fortunate as to get his cows milked for one cent each.

—The Exchange has reduced the price of milk a quarter of a cent on and after April 1st.

—Norwich people, some of them, have taken to eating frogs' legs. They will soon, no doubt, be in the Middletown market.

—The contract for the building of the Rockland fish hatchery has been let to William Mauer, the lowest bidder, at $2,725. There was one bid from a party in Liberty for $2,400, but he did not put in an appearance. The successful bidder is a good carpenter, a conscientious man, and will do the work well.

ROCKLAND'S LUMBER TRADE.

—For many years Rockland was a great lumber port, either by water or rail. For some years past lumbering at that place seemed as if had become a lost art, or an occupation gone, but the past year has seen a revival of the business, as nearly a million feet of logs have been got to the Watson steam mill and to the old Cochran & Appley water mill. The greater portion of this lumber will be used at home, (the hemlock portion of it at least), the coming summer, as the boom has struck these twin villages and they are bound to outdo the fabled ground of Jonah.

TROUT FISHING PROSPECTS.

—No reason can be advanced why trout fishing up this way should not be better than at any time during the past twenty years. The winter has been favorable to the growth of the fish and so far we have had no high water to force them away from their usual haunts. Private individuals and the O. and W. Company have spared neither time nor money in their efforts to keep up the supply and as time passes those who escape the hook soon attain a large growth, which accounts for the fact that so many large trout have been caught in the large rivers for the past two years.

CHANGES IN THE FISH LAW.

—For some years past the people of the Delaware region have smarted under the law prohibiting catching suckers through the ice or spearing eels. That obnoxious law has been repealed and the following takes its place "Pickerel, bullheads, catfish, eels, perch and sunfish may be fished for through the ice, with tip ups, in any of the waters of the State not inhabited by trout, lake trout, salmon trout, or land locked salmon; and suckers, bullheads, eels and dogfish may be caught at any time by means of rake hooks, grappling, hooking, spearing and dip nets in any of the waters of the State, except in Clyde River in the county of Wayne." In regard to fishing for eels, an amendment provides that eel pots of a form and character such as may be prescribed by the rules of the Commissioners of Fisheries may be used in any waters not inhabited by trout, lake trout or land locked salmon.

RUSTICUS

A Boston Trader's Heavy Sentence

CLEVELAND, Tenn., April 9.—In the United States district court Judge Key sentenced R. W. Lewis, the colored remission swindler, to twenty years in prison. Lewis was convicted on fourteen different counts and was given two years for each one. He was arrested up in over sixty different cases of pension frauds, and nearly 200 persons are implicated. All are colored.

Court Officials Indicted.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 9.—The federal grand jury returned twenty more indictments against court officials, making fifty in all which have been found up to date. The charge is the same in all, making fraudulent returns to the government.

Budd Doble to Retire.

RICHMOND, Ind., April 9.—The announcement is made on good authority that Budd Doble, the famous horseman, has decided to drive no more races. He will retire from active work except the general superintendency of his interests.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

At sight of his father William Rooney, confined in the New York city penitentiary for election frauds, dropped dead.

Between the hotel and opera house in Belvidere, Ills., Actress Kate Mortimer was robbed of $1,000 worth of jewelry.

On a little traveled road in Baltimore Mrs. Julia Burns was criminally assaulted in broad day light and left unconscious.

Sales of $2,000 worth of wildcat securities of the Kansas school fund commissioners have been uncovered, and will cause an investigation.

At Boston six members of the family of John Glynn and four of Patrick Geary's family were nearly asphyxiated by a leaky gas pipe. Four may not recover.

At St. Louis Henry Euregard shot his sweetheart, Miss Emma Strabl, and himself because she persisted in leaving a ball at midnight on Saturday. Both may die.

Although ex-Cashier G. W. Sadler, of the People's bank of Guthrie, Ky., paid back his $7,000 stealings, the American Surety company of New York, will send him to prison as an example.

Mammoth Hail Stones in Kansas.

EMPORIA, Kan., April 9.—A fall of the largest hail stones ever witnessed in this part of the state occurred yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The streets were white with hail, and though there was not much wind many window panes were broken, and it is thought much damage to the fruit crop was done. Many stones were as large as hen's eggs.

Three Instantly Killed.

SPENCER, Ind., April 9.—The boiler in the mill belonging to Christian Weber, at Lancaster, ten miles from this city, exploded while the employes were at work. The mill owner, his son, Lewis Weber, and Clifton Tinehart, a laborer, were instantly killed by the explosion. Two other laborers whose names are not known were fatally injured.

Killed Under an Elevator.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Frank Kennedy was crushed to death and Frederick Koenig perhaps fatally injured beneath an elevator in the Columbus Cloak company's store. The men were making some repairs to the elevator, when it was suddenly started. Before they could move the cage had cut off all means of escape.

Walter T. Hoey Insane.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Walter T. Hoey, superintendent of the National Wall Paper company, at Broome and Elm streets, and a brother of William Hoey, the actor, was taken from his home to the Harlem hospital in a straight jacket. He is violently insane.

Almost a Century Old.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Jeremiah Dooley, whose age lacked three years of a century, died here yesterday. He was never sick until about three years ago, and within a few weeks of his death had use of all his faculties, and could read the finest print.

Frick Sticks to His Huns.

PITTSBURG, April 9.—H. C. Frick, who controls at least two thirds of the coke making plants in the region which is now in such a turmoil, in an interview defends the foreign cokers and says they are hardly responsible for the trouble. He will not dispense with their labor, as other operators declare they will, and will not discriminate against them in any way.

Catholic Church and School Destroyed.

NEW YORK, April 9.—St. Augustine's Catholic church, on Jefferson street, with the parochial school adjoining, was entirely destroyed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at $45,000. Firemen Miller and Mitchell were crushed under the roof of the building, both being severely injured.

Securing Rights of Way for the L., C. M. and B. Railroad

Seventy agreements to lease lands as rights of way for the Lackawanna, Catskill Mountain and Boston Railroad have been recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Schoharie county. The agreements are made by parties owning lands between Gilboa and Middleburgh. This is the first practical step towards building the road and has raised more than a little the hopes of those who are anxious to see the project carried through.

A Druggist Says.

Marvin C. Brown, Druggist, Meredith Village, N. H., says: I have sold your Sulphur Bitters for years, and, contrary to most medicines, I never sold a bottle to any one who said it did not help them. They cured me of those terrible sick headaches when every other remedy failed.

Another Ithaca Tragedy

ITHACA, N. Y., April 9.—The community is again startled by the suicide of Dr. Breitzer, a well-to-do merchant of Ithaca and a highly respected citizen. His friends say that the act was due to despondency and meditation over the recent Cornell freshman banquet tragedy, which occurred in the same block in which his office is situated and directly over it. After stating that he had been worrying over a secret which was known to but few people in Ithaca he declares that the allegations made against him of complicity in the Cornell chlorine tragedy were false.

Boston Recruits for Coxey

BOSTON, April 9.—In a blinding snow storm with a bitter cold wind accompaniment, Morrison I. Swift and a group of devotees held a meeting on Boston common yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for a battalion of 1,000 of Boston's unemployed to join Coxey's Commonweal army. An appeal to the rich asking for funds to purchase food and transportation for the Boston contingent was then moved and adopted.

Congressman Wilson's Condition.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 9.—Congressman W. L. Wilson returned yesterday. He is looking much better than when he left here. His color is good and he has gained several pounds in weight. He still has a troublesome cough but the physician states that that will soon leave him. He will start for Washington by easy stages to-morrow.

Reward for a Thieving Banker

O'NEILL, Neb., April 9.—Depositors of the defunct Ho. County bank decided to spend $50 for the arrest of Chas. J. Adams, defaulting and absconding president of the bank. Adams shipped out from O'Neill one hundred and eighty head belonging to the depositors.

Young Fales Resentenced

NEWARK, N. J., April 9.—In the court of over and terminer Judge David A. Depue resentenced Newark's boy murderer Robert Alden Fales, to be hanged at the county jail here on Thursday, May 10, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m.

Adams' Death Sentence Confirmed.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 9.—The highest court of Mexico has confirmed the sentence of death recently passed upon Charles Adams, the American who murdered a waiter in a restaurant here three years ago. Adams comes of a prominent family of New Orleans, and the American colony have used every effort to have his sentence lightened. He will probably be shot within the next few days.

The Indian War Ended.

EL RENO, O. T., April 9.—The Cheyenne Indian war has ended, and the excitement has abated. All the malcontent Indians who did the actual shooting are under arrest. Chief Hill, who was wounded in the first battle, died Saturday evening. The cowboys have laid down their guns and a courier from the field today says the troops anticipate no further trouble.

Six Fishermen Drowned.

LONDON, April 9.—A steam fish trawler, bound home from Iceland, has been wrecked near Grimsby, Lincolnshire, and six of her crew were lost. The vessel got off her course in a dense fog and ran ashore on a rocky coast. A heavy sea was running and the bottom of the steamer was soon ground to pieces.

Big Iron Mill to Resume.

MILLVILLE, N. J., April 9.—The large iron foundry of R. D. Wood & Co., of this place, which has been idle for several months, will start up in about ten days.

Big Fire at Coney Island.

NEW YORK, April 9.—A fire raged on that bedlam thoroughfare of the west end of Coney Island known as the Bowery yesterday. It swept half a dozen barrooms, two hotels, two restaurants an amusement hall and a glass palace. A shift of the wind and hard work by the local firemen were all that prevented the fire from still further robbing the Bowery of its glories. The ramshackle buildings burned like tar. The loss is variously estimated, some of the Coney Island experts placing it as high as $100,000.

Death of Richard Wistar.

ATLANTIC CITY, April 9.—In the modest little cottage on South Massachusetts avenue, which for about three years had been his home, Richard Wistar, the last of the eccentric millionaire brothers, so well known in Philadelphia, died Saturday evening. Grief at the death of his brother, William Lewis Wistar, which occurred in the same room on Feb. 21, is believed to have hastened his end, but Bright's disease of the kidneys is given as the immediate cause.

Heavy Sentence for Chicken Stealing

JANESVILLE, Wis., April 9.—Fines aggregating $2,004 were imposed on Clarence W. Wixom, of Fulton, for chicken stealing being the heaviest fine known in the experience of the municipal court. Wixom is a member of one of the wealthiest families in this country, but has been engaged in much dishonest work. The fines and costs were paid by the young man's father.

Fast Time for Cyclists.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The 100 mile relay bicycle race was won by Gardenardy, of San Jose; Acme, of Oakland, was second. Time, 5 hrs., 22 min., 21 sec.

Daily America aptly defines a "conservative" Democrat as one who boasts of his Democracy on the stump, but hasn't the courage of his convictions when the time comes to prove it in the Senate

But one Democrat holds an elective position under Newburgh's city government. The sole survivor of the cyclones and earthquakes that, during the last few years, have brought destruction to the Hillside City Democrats, is Capt. Smith, of the Water Board.

We are assured by Postmaster Elwood, chairman of last year's Democratic County Committee, that this year's committee will be called together in a few days for the purpose of organization. Mr. Elwood, who was chairman of last year's committee, is not a candidate for re-election.

Gov. Tillman, yesterday, in the course of a ranting interview, denounced President Cleveland as "owned body and soul by the bond-holding money sharks of Wall street." Tillman further declared that he is the "truest representative of Jeffersonian Democracy in American politics to-day." If this is true a great many people who have thought it an honor to call themselves Jeffersonian Democrats will make haste to disavow Jeffersonian Democracy. As for Jefferson he's been dead too long for it to make any difference to him what liberties are taken with his name and fame.

The counterfeiters who made silver dollars which contained as much silver as those coined by the government but who, owing to the low price of silver, made a profit of nearly fifty cents on each dollar that they put in circulation, have found imitators in Europe. France is flooded with counterfeit five-franc pieces which, it is believed, are made in Spain, which contain as much silver as the genuine coins and which are so well made that it is almost impossible to detect them. It is believed that the same thing has been done in England and that many crown and half-crown pieces are in circulation there which, although instrinsically worth as much as those coined in the royal mint, are the handiwork of counterfeiters.

The New York Evening Post says that the Home Market Club, of Boston, has been caught raising money to help along the cause of Populist Kolb, who wants to be Governor of Alabama. The club sent to its members a letter appealing to them to see in "strict privacy discreet persons" and secure contributions to the fund it is proposed to raise. Accompanying the letter was a circular in which were printed letters from Senator Hoar and Congressman Walker endorsing the scheme to aid Kolb. Hoar, a Pecksniffian prater about pure politics, honest money and public virtue admits that Kolb is a Socialist, a flat money man, and wedded to all kinds of crazy schemes of government, but this precious political moralist does not hesitate to say that he thinks it would be good politics to help the Kolb campaign for he is sure that "the forces he leads will be found acting with us in all great essentials in the future"

SENATOR HILL'S TARIFF SPEECH.

Opposed to an Income Tax, Opposed to Low Duties, and First, Last and Always Opposed to President Cleveland—Will support a Tariff Bill if Made to Suit Him.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Mr. Hill, in his speech on the tariff in the Senate, to-day, said: "The political revolution, which commenced in 1890 and culminated in 1892, was an emphatic expression of the popular will in behalf of certain governmental policies. Measures and not men were largely involved in that movement."

He summarized those measures and said: "It is not denied that some mistakes have occurred. Our foreign policy, especially that relating to Hawaii, it must be admitted, has not met the expectations of the people." This blunder Mr. Hill declared was "the natural consequence of placing the department of the State, in charge of a Republican statesman." He expressed regret that the President should not have been able to find a Democrat for this office, in whom he and his party could have placed confidence.

Coming to the question of tariff reform he drew a contrast between 1857 and 1890, and said an extreme reduction of tariff duties at a time when the treasury was swollen with a surplus of $100,000,000, and when all our industries were in motion, assumed a different aspect when proposed now with a large and growing treasury deficit with our industries paralyzed and following upon the heels of one of the most disastrous financial panics in our history. He assailed the President's dilatoriness of action in this matter and said: "This is no time for partisan reproaches. The extreme features of the McKinley bill must be eradicated, but patriotism alike demands that extremes in the opposite direction must also be avoided."

Referring to the condition of the treasury, he said. "In his annual report the Secretary of the Treasury informed Congress of a deficit for the current fiscal year of $28,000 000 The same Secretary of the Treasury finds the same deficit to be $78,000,000, yet the Wilson bill underwent no material change during its progress through the House."

Coming down to the income tax Mr. Hill said: "Against such a scheme argument is unnecessary. Ill timed and mischievious, suddenly sprung upon the country in the hour of distress, un-democratic in its nature and socialistic in its tendencies, I enter against it the protest of the people of the State of New York They utterly dissent from any proposal to get revenue for the general government by taxing incomes. Their dissent is practically unanimous and altogether implacable, and the exemption of incomes of $4 000 is indefensible"

Mr. Hill declared that the substitution of direct taxes for Custom House taxation means the reduction of the wages of American workmen and the deprivation to our workmen of the comforts and luxuries of life to which they have been accustomed "Let me not be misunderstood." He added: "Not one dollar of tariff taxation should be imposed except what is necessary for the needs of the government."

Speaking of our European advisors he said. "The professors with their books, the Socialists with their schemes, the Anarchists with their bombs, are all instructing the people. If McKinleyism is socialism for the benefit of the rich, and income taxing is socialism for the benefit of the poor, no true American Democrat will look to the hair of the dog to cure his bite. American Democrats will reject socialism of both kinds"

Referring to the sugar tax, he said: "I do not question the wisdom of the action of the Senate Finance Committee, but its conclusions with regard to sugar should have been followed by an elimination of the income tax."

He vigorously defended the wealthy men of New York from the charges of "narrow and corroding selfishness," hurled against them by Senator Voorhees.

In conclusion he said. "I stand ready to support any reasonable measure for tariff reform framed within the lines and based upon the principles which I have here partially indicated"

MANY FIREMEN KILLED AND INJURED.

THE CONSPIRACY OF IDLENESS

From American Industries.

One by one facts are accumulating with damning iteration which will pin to the Republican party the infamy of the conspiracy of idleness that darkened the past winter. There is no doubt, whatever, that in most cases, where mills were closed and factories stopped, the motive was spite. The defeat of the Republican party in the fall of 1892 was overwhelming, and it came from the great working classes of the country. Exasperated beyond measure, determined at all hazards to read the voters a lesson, and goaded by a licentious and evil disposed press, manufacturers all along the line shut down their works, put on the screw, filed orders and waited for the rigors of winter and the cries of want to emphasize their "I told you so" hypocrisy. We have time and again pointed out in our columns the fact, palpable and notorious, that concerns forced to resume operations had held back until they had to run double shift to catch up, and now comes another instance of the utmost importance to note, the Illinois Steel Company: "In resuming operations the company has enough orders on hand to keep the mill running night and day for two years without intermission, if not another single order should come in." This is no pleasure back store, but one of the largest steel rail mills in the country, employing 4,000 men, and using in its manufacture 9,000,000 tons of iron ore in a year. The game of bluff is up; all that can be got from it has, Republicans think, been gathered in, but they are mistaken, we will take care, and every Democratic orator will take care, that the curses inflicted on the voters last winter shall come home to roost. The Republicans have sown the wind of greed and cruelty, they will reap the whirlwind from a betrayed and persecuted electorate.

Sales Satisfactory.

Our aim always has been and always will be to give our customers an honest dollar's worth of goods for $1. We never have advertised "Cheap John" goods at "Cheap John" prices, believing that the people of Middletown are willing to pay for what they get. If you wish cheap carpets we have them; we also have the BEST. If you wish cheap curtains we have them, we also GIVE YOU a brass trimmed curtain pole with every pair of curtains. We will not limit you to the time.

Our store will be open from 7 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. each day, and we are always glad to show goods. We have special attractions in most every department and prices are way down. Our spring stock throughout has been selected with the greatest care, and we want your money in exchange for the goods. Come and see us.

INFANTS' WEAR!

Some people, each of them as have not long ago discovered the fact that we supply their wants in a superior manner, hunt all over Middletown for INFANTS' GARMENTS and then come to our store. They find in our Infants' Department a collection far choicer than anything they have ever seen in this city, and prices way under our competitors. Thus our business in these things grows and thus our neighbors loose their patronage. But then this is not to be wondered at. We deal strictly in Ladies' and Children's and Infants' Wear, and carry a complete stock of these goods, and not merely carry them as a side show in our business.

She is survived by two sons, Peter, who resides in Middletown, and Charles, whose home is with Mr. Case.

ARRESTED FOR A SERIOUS CRIME

A Port Jervis Young Man Accused of Committing a Criminal Assault Upon a Young Girl.

William Winfield, of Port Jervis, aged twenty-three years, was arrested, Saturday, on the charge of having committed a criminal assault upon a young girl, Mary Conkling, aged sixteen years.

The crime is alleged to have been committed on Monday, March 5th, in Laurel Grove Cemetery.

Immediately after the occurrence Winfield left town and remained away until a few days ago. A warrant had been sworn out by the girl, however, and was in the hands of the police, who arrested him at the first opportunity.

Winfield was held for the Grand Jury.

Telephone and District Telegraph Co.'s at War.

The Hudson River Telephone Co. and the District Telegraph Messenger Co. in Newburgh are at loggerheads, and the business men of the city are beginning to make a grand kick. The messenger call boxes do not work properly and people began using the telephones to call messengers, when the telephone company refused the use of the line for that purpose.

Monhagen's Social.

The members of Monhagen Hose Company will give a social and dance to their lady friends, on Wednesday evening, April 18th, at the truck house.

The committee in charge is: Messrs. John Conkling, G. E. Wilkin, J. S. Southliff, W. D. Brown and W. B. Ketcham.

Taken to Oxford for Burial.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

In Session in This City—A Very Large Attendance—To-day's Proceedings—Programme for the Remainder of the Week.

The Teachers' Institute for the Second Commissioner District of Orange county, Willard M. Clark, Commissioner, opened at the Assembly Rooms, at 2 o'clock, this afternoon. Teachers began to arrive on the early morning trains and have continued to come in on all trains on all the roads throughout the day. The attendance is very large, especially of teachers, as the law is mandatory and Commissioner Clark is required to report every teacher who does not attend, and all trustees who do not close their schools during Institute week. At 2 o'clock, this afternoon, every teacher in the district except two, who are sick, had registered.

The Conductor of the Institute is Henry R. Sanford, A. M., Ph. D., who is among his friends here, he having for years resided in this city, where he filled the position of superintendent of our schools. He is assisted by Mrs. B. Ellen Burke, Miss Himes, Joseph T. Tracy, A. M., and Frank M. Wilson, A. M.

Mr. Everett E. Courtright is the Secretary, Miss Meda Winters, of Union Corners, organist, and Miss Nellie Quackenbush, of Warwick, leader of the singing.

The exercises were opened with singing, followed by prayer by the conductor. From 2:15 to 3 o'clock Prof. Sanford lectured on language, a change of subject having been decided upon.

The other two afternoon periods were filled by Miss Hines with lectures on drawing.

The programme for the remainder of the week is as follows:

TUESDAY.

9—9.15. Opening exercises.
9.15—10. Language lessons, Conductor.
10.15—11. Drawing, Miss Himes.
11.15—12. Spelling contest.

9.15—10. Civil government, Conductor.
10.15—11. Primary work, Mrs. Burke.
11.15—12 Physical geography, Conductor.
2—2.45. Primary work, Mrs. Burke.
3—3.45. Primary work, Mrs. Burke.
4—4.45. School management, Conductor.

Evening exercises will be as follows: Tuesday, illustrated lecture by Frank R. Roberson, "Norway and Norwegians." Wednesday, illustrated lecture by Prof. Sanford, "The World's Columbian Exposition." Thursday, lecture by Mrs. Burke.

OPENING OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Attendance Large—Many New Scholars in the Primary Grade.

The public schools re-opened, this morning, and it may be conceded that it was with great reluctance, the small boy and girl relinquished the pleasures of playing ball and "miggs" and jumping the rope, and the enjoyment of freedom in the spring sunshine, to enter upon the drudgery of study and the confinement of the school room.

It was noticeable on the start that there was an unusually large number of little children, many of whom doubtless started to school for the first time. Owing to the already crowded condition of the primary rooms it is doubtful if the superintendent will be able to provide accommodations for the children of families who have just moved into town and who have become of school age since last fall.

The need of additional school room is a question that must be met at no distant day.

"Flowers of the Forest" Matinee.

The managers of Thrall Hospital have decided to reduce the prices for the matinee performance of the "Flowers of the Forest."

There will be no reserved seats. The prices will be twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for all children under ten years of age. The boxes and loge seats will be sold for fifty cents a seat.

The matinee performance will be exactly the same as the evening's production.

James B. Mackie, the original Grimsey, the Boy, in the Bunch of Keys, will be with you. At the Casino Theatre, Friday night, April 13th.

—Mrs. John Harney died at the residence of Mr. John Conners, on Green street, Saturday. She was a cousin of Thos. Bradley and was formerly a resident of this village.

—Mrs. Hiram Horton, of Tuxedo, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards.

—Regular monthly meeting of the Goshen Social and Athletic Association, to-night. A number of propositions for membership are to be acted on.

—Bryant Goodie, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday in town. He has a good position in the stables of ex-Mayor Boody's son.

—Livingston Hunt has accepted a position as attendant on a gentleman at Dr. Seward's Interpines Sanitarium.

—Chas. Tierney has signed with the Binghamton Base Ball Club. He is to report at Philadelphia, this week.

WORK OF THE WATER INSPECTORS.

Discovering Great Waste of Water Both Willfully and by Defective Plumbing.

The inspectors of the Water Commissioners are discovering many defects in plumbing especially in closets, by which much water is being constantly wasted and it will probably be found that the salaries paid the inspectors will be money well invested.

One of the inspectors remarked, this morning, that he believes as much water is wasted willfully and through defective plumbing as is necessarily consumed in the ordinary uses for which it is intended.

One of the results of this inspection may probably be the appointment of one or more persons to be constantly employed in looking after water wastes.

Forfeited Their Money and Skipped the Town.

Two young men from up the Midland, who, whenever they visit Middletown, make a business of "loading up," fell into the hands of the police, Saturday night, and yesterday morning, were released on depositing $5 each, for their appearance before the Recorder, this morning. They failed to appear and the money was turned into the city treasury.

The young men endeavored to conceal their identity by giving fictitious names, but they were recognized by one of the officers and it will go hard with them if they fall into the clutches of the police again.

"Grimes' Cellar Door."

"As Grimsey My Boy" in a Bunch of Keys Company. Mr. James B. Mackie, the favorite young comedian, made a pronounced hit, As "Billy Grimes" in his own musical comedy, "Grimes" Cellar Door" he has made a still greater one and proved himself a comedian of rare ability. His piece is bright, sparkling with wit and full of funny situations, lovely music, graceful dancing and everything that is good. Mr. Mackie knows just how to make his audience happy. Go and see him and be convinced of his wonderful faculty in this line. At the Casino, Friday evening.

Officers of the Agricultural Society.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Middletown Agricultural and Horse Fair Association, held Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Henry S. Pound.
Secretary—Charles G. Baldwin.
Treasurer—Dr. F. M. Barnes.

Mackie's Grimes' Cellar Door is a great success. Funny, well I should say so. Mackie will be with you. At the Casino Theatre, Friday night, April 13th.

A Parish Tea.

Rector Evans announced in Grace Church, yesterday, that the ladies of the church, would hold another Parish Tea, on Monday evening, April 16, at the Assembly Rooms.

Serious Trouble at One of the Hospital Artesian Wells.

There is trouble with one of the artesian wells at the State Hospital. The bottom of the working barrel came off and now lies 400 feet down in the earth. It will be necessary to rig a derrick and draw out the piping before repairs can be made, a job of considerable magnitude.

Jumped from an Erie Train.

A young man named Beaumont, who was a passenger on an Erie train, Friday evening, from New York to Newburgh, jumped from the train at Clifton and sustained very serious injuries to his head. He was taken to a New York hospital.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 105 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her.

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate."—Mrs. E. R. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

HARD TIMES IN AUSTRALIA.

A Great Increase in Crime and Destitution Due to Industrial Depression.

Advices from Australia by the steamer Warrnambool show an alarming increase in destitution, crime and acute distress. The police are unable to cope with desperate lawbreakers, who swarm in the large cities. A few that have been arrested give as an excuse that famine drove them to deeds of violence. Several of the policemen attacked by burglars at Sydney are dying. The survivors have been promoted and given bounties by Sir George Gibbs.

On one day last week at Sydney, besides a score of petty robberies, the city hospital was robbed of all its valuables by nurses. Mereredie & Drew, manufacturers, were robbed of $50,000 by employees. F. Coxon, merchant, was robbed by an employee of a large sum. Three young women succeeded in passing a number of counterfeit checks. Charles Graham a postoffice clerk, embezzled $200 from the postoffice.

The government's claim is that the unemployed problem is too complicated to solve. In Sydney $300 each week is spent in aiding 700 families. Five thousand men in South Australia have asked the governor to call a special session of parliament to discuss means to aid them. The governor refused. Then they waited on Premier Kingston, but the premier would promise nothing. He told them that though they were in want of food they had refused to break 1½ yards of rock per week for rations, and he could do no more. The delegation said they would not break rock for food alone.

Thousands are sleeping in the open air, and several have starved to death. At Bourke, Afghans and Europeans quarreled over a division of labor, and a bloody row occurred. The most tragic suicides out of 93 in one week, directly the result of hard times, are: F. W. Wilson, the biscuit manufacturer of Brisbane, shot himself; William O'Connor, lodger in the European hotel, Melbourne, jumped from the fourth story and dashed his brains out on the pavement; Kate Brooks, a pretty English girl, starving, got drunk and killed herself with poison; Joseph Bancroft, a miner out of work, said goodby to his family and exploded a cartridge in his mouth.—San Francisco Chronicle.

A ROMANCE IN IT.

An Interesting Contest In the Land Office, and the Young Woman Wins.

The final decision of the secretary of the interior in the land case of Francis L. Box and Jerry Dammon against Jessie M. Sinclair has been received. The case was tried in the local land office in 1891. The decision was in favor of Miss Sinclair. Box and Dammon appealed, and the commissioner of the general land office affirmed the decision of the local office Aug. 22, 1892. Both defeated parties again appealed to the secretary, who has now confirmed the commissioner's decision in favor of Miss Sinclair.

It is seldom there is a tinge of romance about a land office case. There is in this one. Miss Sinclair, whose home was at Durand, was a schoolteacher. Her affections had been gained by a worthy young man whose home is not far from the Sinclairs in Pepin county. Both were poor. She determined to do her part in giving herself and her future husband a start, and with this purpose she settled on the land in question, a portion of the famous water reserve territory.—The land she gets is worth about $4,500, having valuable pine on it. The young lady's friends state the wedding will take place in the near future. Secretary Hoke Smith's decision has settled that.—Eau Claire (Wis.) Special.

J. C. B. and Royalty.

A gentleman just returned to London from the racing and other festivities at Cannes calls my attention to a social feature of the royal gayeties in the past fortnight which will be of special interest to Americans. One of the first acts of the Prince of Wales on his arrival at the Riviera was to make a personal call upon a private citizen of the United States. Two days later the prince invited him to lunch, an invitation which the American was unable to accept, because he himself was that day entertaining ex-Empress Eugenie, Grand Duke Michel and other royal guests. It is a fact well known in all courts and salons on the continent that no untitled individual in all Europe is so cordially welcomed in the most exclusive circles of royalty and aristocracy as this man. His name is James Gordon Bennett.—New York Sun's London Letter.

Rather Awkward.

The readiness with which French juries acquit husbands who take the lives of their wives' lovers leads sometimes to awkward mistakes by too hasty spouses. An unlucky glazier was repairing the window of the boudoir of a lady whom her husband suspected. The master of the house entered and caught sight of the man behind a curtain. He pulled a revolver without a word and fired at the glazier, who is now in the hospital badly wounded. The husband feels very foolish, but is willing to pay a big bill of damages.—Paris Letter.

An Important Railway.

The important strategic railway connecting Tien-tsin with Shan-hai-Kwan, the town at the eastern foot of the great wall, where it runs down to the gulf of Liutong, is now completed, and the new Chinese minister to London traveled by it last week. He was thereby enabled to reach the seaboard and get a steamer for Shanghai instead of having to remain the winter in Tien-tsin or be carried down by cheap ice-crushing steamers overland. Tien-tsin, from up from December to March.—London Times.

A Disagreeable Inquiry.

The Paris newspapers make studies statistics of the Exposition while New Yorkers record the pictures of the World's fair in order to see what they can only remember by count. It does seem that Paris could have done more commercially for itself than it wants to know why it has not given so.

DANA'S SARSAPARILLA THE KIND THAT CURES

Rev. A. J. DAY, East Greenbush, N. Y.

SCROFULA AND ECZEMA

A WONDERFUL CURE | A MINISTER'S TESTIMONY

I wish to extol the virtues of DANA'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Day's health was unusually good up to the age of 40. At this time scrofula taint manifested itself in form of Eczema. We had used a variety of remedies, with but little good result, but DANA'S SARSAPARILLA proved so effective that I must say it is a grand combination of remedial agents.

My son was also troubled with Eczema, his arms, from hands to elbows, being one solid mass of scabs. He has also been cured by the use of DANA'S SARSAPARILLA.

NEWSPAPER FARMING.

Come, all ye lowly farmers
Come, all ye grower toil,
Wise in the cultivation
Of wheat have gone dead broke;
Since in the rural precincts
You cannot find your luck,
Come here and learn the secret
Of making garden truck.

High up above the pyramides
Who rush along the street
There toils a pitied worker
Upon a morning sheet.
All night he looks at copy:
All night he handles news;
All day he wants his thanker
And much of wisdom brews.

He grieves to think that farmers
Should play a losing hand
At plowing up the bosom
Of unresponsive land,
And in his grief he murmurs,
"With crops diversified
The farmer would be in it,
With fortune for his bride."

So come, ye lowly plowmen,
Who thirst for something good,
And learn the golden secret,
For be it understood
That here we have a writer
Who deftly does the trick
Of making country butter
By the paragraph or stick.
—St. Paul News.

Relieving Snowbound Passengers.

"I was snowbound in Michigan a few years ago, between Coopersville and Nunica," said a traveling salesman. "The snow was four feet deep on a level and still falling. The passengers had eaten up everything the train boy had, including even mixed candies, and children were crying for food. A grocery salesman offered his samples of tea and coffee, and these were boiled at the engine. Then I started, accompanied by another passenger, to go to a farmhouse to get some bread and butter. We waded through the snow, and by the time we got there were nearly frozen, but we could detect the odor of cooking victuals and felt that our mission would be successful.

"In answer to our knock a woman came to the door and flatly refused to let us have bread at any price. Five large loaves, just baked, were on a table and a jar of butter near it. I told my friend to go to the front door and argue with them while I stole the food. This programme was carried out, and I started back through the snow with the bread and butter. I had not gone far before I could hear the farmer behind swearing at me. Then came a race through the snow. Twice I fell down and soaked the bread in the snow, but I hung on to it and reached the train at the same time the farmer did. There a hundred passengers were ready to help me, and we had one square meal. I had offered $1 a loaf for the bread and started to make the promise good, but the passengers insisted that the man should get nothing except the empty butter jar."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Korean Use For Human Hair.

Human hair is in great demand in some of the countries of Europe, and the supply is said to be inadequate. Our consul in Korea points out that there is plenty and to spare in the Hermit Kingdom. "The Koreans," he adds, "have remarkably fine heads of hair, and they put their 'combings' to a use that I have never seen elsewhere. A very large number of the saddlecloths placed under the packs of their ponies are made of hair woven into coarse mats or bags, and the halters and head ropes of their animals are largely composed of the same material. I believe that human hair is largely exported from China to Europe, and Korea could furnish a large and cheap supply did the people know there there was a demand for it." Here's a chance for some pioneer of commerce.—Westminster Gazette.

Mines of Petrifactions.

North Colorado and parts of Wyoming and Montana are genuine mines of petrifactions. There are petrifactions of every kind, including many varieties of wood, ferns and plants, fish, toads, snails, frogs, serpents, shellfish and objects which cannot be classified. The deposits often occur in layers, as though some great natural convulsion had destroyed the animal life of a whole district at once. The scientists make very few and tolerably weak attempts to explain the singular phenomenon, and the fact is evident that they know no more about the matter than do the men who pick out the best specimens and sell them to tourists.—Chicago Herald.

Nantucket Ahead.

Claimants for priority are constantly getting into trouble by making statements founded on insufficient premises. Referring to the mention by a Boston paper that a lady candidate for overseer of the poor at Dedham was the first of her sex to aspire to that office, the Nantucket Inquirer says: "Nantucket elected a lady overseer a year ago—Mrs. Malinda S. Barney—and again in 1894 has re-elected the same lady and another—Mrs. Susan P. Jones. So Nantucket is a year ahead and proud of the step she took."

There was a winemakers' union in Rome B. C. 64. They had regular meetings at which they discussed the best methods of concentrating wine so as to reduce it to a sirup and finally to a solid cake, in which form it was often preserved for many years.

Dr. P. Fuerbringer of Berlin praises the peanut as a food rich in albumen and advises its use in soup or mush. Peanuts are especially valuable, he says, in kidney diseases, in which animal albumen must be avoided.

A law enacted in Germany requires that all drugs intended for internal use be put up in round bottles, while those for external use shall be put up in hexagonal bottles.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

Mr. Jimsmith Was Prepared For a Different Individual.

Mr. Jimsmith, the lawyer, whose name is a household word in Chicago, recently moved into a beautiful suburban home. He is highly pleased with it in a general way, but so many agents call upon him that he finds it rather a bore. The other day he opened the door to 12 agents before the afternoon was half over, and when he was summoned to the door for the thirteenth time he was mad enough to fight a herd of porcupines. A red-eyed man dressed in black confronted him and started to say something, but Mr. Jimsmith interrupted him:

"You don't need to tell me what you have to sell, because I don't want it. I don't need a burglar proof clock, nor a boxjack that has a music box in it, nor a stem-winding can opener. I don't"——

"My dear sir, you are mis"——

"Oh, you don't need to 'dear sir' me! It won't work. I tell you I don't want a gate that may be taken from its hinges and used as a folding bed. I have no use for a combined curry-comb and mustache cup. I have a full supply of furniture polish, cough medicine and hair restorer, and, what's more, my wife doesn't need a recipe for preserving codfish or frying billiard balls."

"Really, sir, this is a most extraordinary"——

"Oh, of course, it's extraordinary, but I don't want it. I suppose it can be used to grate horse radish and tune the piano, but I tell you that I don't need it. Perhaps it will take the grease spots out of clothing, pare apples and chase dogs out of the yard, but you'll have to go somewhere else to sell it. I am surprised that a man of your age and respectable appearance should go around trying to sell pocket cornshellers when the whole neighborhood is full of wood that ought to be sawed. What's the use of trying to sell a man a fire escape when you can make $1 a day baling hay?

"I am not an agent."

"Then what are you?"

"I'm the pastor of the Orthodox Brethren church, and I came over to get acquainted, not knowing that you were running a private madhouse. Good day."—Chicago Tribune.

A Good Investment.

A prominent attorney living on West Pine street has a 5-year-old boy that, considering his years, is said to be his father's equal in shrewdness. The other day there was a little girl added to the family. The boy is not a lover of babies, but he dotes on dogs. The next day after the birth the boy began to wonder what his parents wanted of another baby, and if they had to have something new in the house why they didn't get a pup. That night he climbed on his father's knee and asked:

"Do babies cost much?"

"Well, quite a good deal," replied the head of the household.

"Do they cost more than $5?"

"Yes. They generally cost a great deal more than that."

"Did my little sister costs as much as $10?"

"Yes, she cost ten times as much as that. Don't you think she is worth more than $100?" said the proud father.

Sacks no!" exclaimed the future great. "Why, that baby can't do anything but cry. Can't hardly kick. Now, I know a fellow that's got the best kind of pup, and you can get him for $5. Now, if you wanted to make a good investment for me and something that I could use, why didn't you save $5 and buy me the pup?"—St. Louis Republic.

The Philosophy of It.

Pa and ma were sitting quietly near the fireplace. Pa was reading a paper, and ma was knitting. Presently ma looked up over her glasses.

"Pa," she said, "I believe our Henry is in love."

"What makes you think so?"

"Well, he won't eat nothin for a week past to speak of."

Pa laid his paper down in his lap, folded his hands over it and gazed into the fire reflectively.

"It's kinder queer 'bout bein in love," he said slowly. "When people is courtin, they never seem to keer for victuals, but jest as soon as they git married victuals is about the only thing they'll hustle for seven days in the week."—Detroit Free Press.

She Remembered the Cat.

A webfoot woman who started to jump into the Columbia river to drown herself suddenly remembered that she had left the cat in the pantry, and hurried back home. She afterward said, "The idea of my struggling in the water and thinking that the cat was licking the cream off my milk in the pantry at that minute was more than I could bear."—Walla Walla Statesman.

The Other Way.

"Did I understand you to say that Skadchase was suffering from heart trouble brought about by financial embarrassment?"

"No. I said he was suffering from financial embarrassment brought about by heart trouble. The heiress he was engaged to has jilted him."—Indianapolis Journal.

Sure to Draw.

First Manager—Come to have a Shakespearean revival and present 'Hamlet,' eh? It won't draw.

Second Manager—Yes, it will. We'll take the town. We are going to have a tank of real water for Ophelia to drown in.—New York Weekly.

To Be Continued.

Mrs. Honeymoon (to bridegroom in railway train)—Do you love me?

Old Party (confidentially, from other seat to bridegroom)—She's asked you that 47 times already. I got out here, but I'll leave the score with this gentleman by the window.—Tit-Bits.

Signs of Spring.

"Isn't it pleasant," said one railway passenger to another, "to see all these signs of spring?"

"Yes, and there are so many of them too. We haven't passed a single barn that didn't have a patent medicine ad. on it."—Washington Star.

Judging by Sound.

"The family across the way is quite unfortunate," said a woman to her neighbor. "One of the sons is a paranoiac, and the other is a kleptomaniac."

"Dear me! They must be very rich."—Detroit Free Press.

We Americans.

"Who was that distinguished looking fellow you were just bowing to, Mabel?"

"That! Oh, that was one of father's clerks."

"Really! I thought he was a gentleman."—Life.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive, it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and casings, and the building is not saturated with water, as it necessarily must be when common plaster is used, it costs originally but little more than lime plaster, and in the end its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves waiting several weeks or months for the buildings to dry out, it does not crack or fall off, even in the case of leakage; it is applied easily by any good plasterer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and to stay.

AN "ARGUS" MAN GOT OUTS AND OUTS AT SEVERAL DISTRICTS.

Many Points on the Occasion of Future Fund-Issues—The Arbor Day Manual—The Real Purpose of the Day Stated—Labor Day Then, That Will Not Come

J. P. Crocker, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has issued May 4th as Arbor Day, and has issued the Arbor Day Manual, which is a distinct advance on any of its predecessors. It contains poems by Mary A. McClelland and Mrs. M. A. B. Kelly; a "Planting Song" by Rev. M. F. Sentner; a delightful letter to children by Mrs. William Starr Dana; a treatise on the culture of the rose, the State flower, and practical hints as to the selection of plans for ruined borders for school grounds, and directions as to their arranging and cultivation, by W. S. Egerton, Albany's Superintendent of Parks. There is also a well prepared descriptive article on the oak, copiously illustrated, which if carefully studied will enable any child to recognize any of the oaks that grow in this State.

In the article with which Superintendent Crocker prefaces the Manual, he virtually admits that in the five years in which Arbor Day has been observed in this State but little real progress has been made toward attaining the end for which the day was instituted,—practical instruction in the art of transplanting trees and the inculcation of a love of knowledge of trees and plants. In the observance of the sentimental pleasures of the day, in the recitation of selections and poems more or less suited to the day, and in the singing of songs in glorification of the beauties of tree and forest, the practical has been lost sight of, and teachers and children know no more about tree planting than they did before Arbor Day was dreamed of. Many of the Arbor Day trees planted in this city have died speedy deaths and most of those that have lived are living in such sickly wretchedness that it would have been better had they died.

It would have been almost a miracle if those trees had attained a vigorous growth. Any hole has been small enough in which to plant the trees, which have been allowed to dry in the sun and wind, and no care has been taken to spread out the feeding rootlets. Little or not city residents and their pupils have about tree planting, those of the country districts know less. I have seen while riding in the country, school houses surrounded with dreadful dead trees, mute witnesses of what those who set them called arbor days were accomplishing, contrasted by splendid evidences that Arbor Day as observed in those districts would in the course of time

Yesterday's Services at St. Paul's.

Rev. Geo. W. Dowas, of the University of New York, preached in St. Paul's Church, Sunday morning. In the evening Rev. John H. Pierce, of Minneapolis, Minn., spoke on "Temperance work and the Keeley cure as a factor therein."

RESULTS OF SEVERAL WEEKS' WORK.

Additions to Church Membership—The Epworth League in the Accomplishment.

In his annual report to conference, Presiding Elder W. E. Shields, gives the following summary of the results of revival work:

Several pleasant revivals have occurred in the district. Time will not permit me to describe them. We name the result as indicated in the list of probationers. At Middletown the work was chiefly among the children of the Sunday school, the "nursery of the church." They report 148, Bridgeville, 80, Napanoch 71, Sloatsburgh 70, Stevensville 70, Dauntsville 60, Highland 60, Deposit 50, St. John's, Newburgh, 50, Rockland 50, Sullivile 40, Grace, Newburgh, 40, Montgomery 40, Mt Hiberacum 35, Walden 34, Main Branch 32, Greenwild 30, Chileville 25, Liberty and Monroe each 20, and Livingston Manor 21. Many reports a lesser number.

In reference to the Epworth League he says:

The Epworth League is coming rapidly to the front with the older departments of the church. Two district conventions and several local conventions have been held during the year. The one at Deposit in October continued over Sunday and in its spiritual work reminded the "Fathers" of the early days of Methodism, with its consecration and evangelistic services. The annual convention was held in St. John's, Newburgh, March 21-22, where the membership of the local chapter increased 110 in the past year. In numbers, intelligence, spirituality and enthusiasm, this convention led all the rest.

We have sixty-eight chapters of the League in the district, and one Christian Endeavor Society. The membership has increased nearly 600 during the year. Marlborough Chapter stands first in the district, first in the conference, and third in all Methodism, for the number of Epworth Heralds taken.

THE STATE CAMP.

The Twenty-fourth's Week There—Improvements at the Camp Grounds.

While it has not yet been officially announced, it is more than probable that the State Camp at Peekskill will open June 16th. The 24th Separate Company will probably go into camp during the first or second week in July.

A great many improvements are being made at the camp, under the direction of the Chief of the Ordnance Department, General Vedder, among the most important being a large addition to the bath houses.
